BEAUTIFUL MEMORIALS

Recently Erected in the Grove Street and Evergreen Cemeteries.
Two beautiful monuments have just been erected in the old, or Grove street, cemetery. One is to the memory of the lamented Dr. T. Beers Townsend, who was indeed "a beloved physician," and whose memory is warmly cherished in many hearts. He was a brother of Hon. James M. Townsend and Captain Charles H. Townsend, and his tomb is near the center of the Townsend plot. The memorial is what is known as a Ledger monument, and is massive and beautiful, six feet and more in length, about four in width and about five feet in height. It is of choice gray granite, and of elegant proportions. The monument bears the following very appropriate inscription:

T. BEERS TOWNSEND.

Born

Nov. 21, 1825.

Died

March 31, 1893.

A beloved physician.

A skillful surgeon.

A genial, kind and true friend.

Loved and lamented.

On the face of the die is the family monogram in German text, and enveloping it are leaves of laurel and palm wrought in the solid stone. The stone in its simplicity, artistic character, strength and beauty seems a fitting tribute to the sleeper whose memory is held precious in many hearts and homes.

Another new and beautiful monument, which is indeed a monument of great beauty is a massive and elegant sarcophagus of the choicest light gray granite just erected to the memory of the late James S. Bailey, a gentleman of rare worth of character, well remembered in many New Haven homes, although a large part of his long and valuable life was spent in business in New York city, and was for many years a resident of Brooklyn. The inscription reads:

JAMES STANTON BAILEY.

Lebanon, Conn., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dec. 9, 1817, Jan. 16, 1895.

The carving on the sarcophagus is probably the choicest and most artistic to be seen in this or any other of our cities of the dead. The sarcophagus is modestly imposing, standing perhaps eight or nine feet in height, and of beautiful proportions. The elaborate carving spoken of above emphasizes beautifully the upper part of the massive die.

Another beautiful and costly monument has just been erected at the hands of Thomas Phillips & Son, who also designed and executed the monuments above spoken of. This one has just been erected on Cedar avenue in Evergreen cemetery by George D. Farovid, the Chapel street druggist, to the memory of his wife, who died a few months ago, much lamented. This monument is a massive rock boulder weighing eight or nine tons. Gracefully falling over the polished plate on which is the inscription, is an Easter lily, carved in bold relief. This elegant and notable monument stands six feet four inches in height, and it is three and a half feet in thickness. It is already attracting great attention. The monument is in the new part of the cemetery, which was added in recent years, being the portion near Davenport avenue, bought of the Mariner-Beecher estate.

MR. W. H. LAW NOMINATED.

Candidate for the New York State Senate of the State Democracy in the Fifteenth District.

It will be gratifying to the large circle of friends of Attorney William H. Law of New York city, formerly one of New Haven's leading influential young professional men, to know that he has been honored with a nomination for the New York state senate. His name appears in the list of nominees made by the state democracy for the senate. He is a candidate from the Fifteenth district. Mr. Law recently withdrew from the Tammany wing of the democracy and was at once placed in nomination by the state democracy for the position named. Mr. Law is a rising man, and his New Haven friends, irrespective of party, will be glad to hear of his still increasing prosperity and influence.

Mrs. William H. Kiernan of 390 East street, who attempted suicide by taking Paris green, is reported out of danger.
